1. If adjustments are made (i.e. add tips, refunds, etc.) after report time listed, rerun report.
2. Sales Tax Calculation: Sales tax is calculated on each transaction to 3 decimals and then rounded by state sales tax law. Sales tax calculated on the total taxable sales amount will not equal the sales tax calculated on each taxable item due to the rounding. If your state allows you to enter the aggregate of your taxable sales and then apply the applicable sales tax to determine your sales tax liability, the number will be different than the amount calculated on each item and then summed. This difference in rounding is considered de minimis and is acceptable and expected.

1. If adjustments are made (i.e. add tips, refunds, etc.) after report time listed, rerun report.

2. Sales Tax Calculation: Sales tax is calculated on each transaction to 3 decimals and then rounded by state sales tax law. Sales tax calculated on the total taxable sales amount will not equal the sales tax calculated on each taxable item due to the rounding. If your state allows you to enter the aggregate of your taxable sales and then apply the applicable sales tax to determine your sales tax liability, the number will be different than the amount calculated on each item and then summed. This difference in rounding is considered de minimis and is acceptable and expected.

1. If adjustments are made (i.e. add tips, refunds, etc.) after report time listed, rerun report.

2. Sales Tax Calculation: Sales tax is calculated on each transaction to 3 decimals and then rounded by state sales tax law. Sales tax calculated on the total taxable sales amount will not equal the sales tax calculated on each taxable item due to the rounding. If your state allows you to enter the aggregate of your taxable sales and then apply the applicable sales tax to determine your sales tax liability, the number will be different than the amount calculated on each item and then summed. This difference in rounding is considered de minimis and is acceptable and expected.
